

Overview/Background - Phase 0 vs 1

There are two types of connections in regards to B.com orders, which are differentiated as phase 0 and phase 1.

Characteristics	Phase 0 (Whitelabel)	Phase 1 (B2B API)
Where is the booking made?	Customers initiate their search on B.com site, but are redirected to ETG Gotogate site to fulfill the booking.	Customers fulfill the flight purchase on the Booking.com site environment, but utilizing ETG air content, pricing, and operational experience. The reservation happens on Booking.com's website while our systems are fulfilling everything in the background.
How to recognise in Edvin?	These orders in Edvin have: - Booking.com logo - order creation site related to Booking, i.e.: booking_de - no banner	These orders in Edvin have: - Booking.com logo - order creation site related to Booking, i.e.: booking_de - banner (branding as a rolling header BookingComClient via B2BApi) - Booking.com's order reference (10 or 11 digits and always starts with 40-
General handling	Orders handled as per normal ETG processes.	All pre-booking inquiries are handled by Booking.com Customer Support All post-booking inquiries are handled by ETG Customer Support
Email templates	Standard ETG email templates ATT: CXL related emails need to be amended due to no involuntary fees applicable for all B.com orders, phase 0 inclusive	Designated B.com email templates. In Edvin stored under Booking.com folder, in Genesys and Etrack - template title starting from Booking.com -
Fees applicability	No involuntary service fees are applicable. For detailed service fees applicability per respective phase check	For orders created from 01NOV2021 and onwards no service fees are applicable for B.com Phase 1 orders. The customers are charged ONLY the airlines' cost. For detailed service fees applicability per respective phase check following chapter of this decision tree
Merchant of record (MoR)	Always ETG	B.com or ETG For more details on how to recognise MoR check here.
Highlights	All services up to phase 1 external launch are completely provided by ETG.	Phase 1 is live externally since the 24th of September 2019.

Service fees

Below rules apply for service fee charges in B.com orders, based on respective phase and order creation date:

	Phase 0	Phase 1 (for orders created before 1st of November 2021)	Phase 1 (for orders created 1st of November 2021 and onwards)
Involuntary fee (FM/SC rebooking and refund scenarios)	NO	NO	NO
Respective service fee (all other scenarios)	YES	YES / Except for Void and 24h in US	NO
Ancillary Markup	For all types of add-on products (regardless of whether it is LCC or GDS) we should follow the same policy as for ETG customers	For all types of add-on products (regardless of whether it is LCC or GDS) only provider cost will be charged!	For all types of add-on products (regardless of whether it is LCC or GDS) only provider cost will be charged!