Disability assistance

FL Phone/Chat Process

When a customer calls, or chats requesting wheelchair assistance, follow these steps:

1. Inform Customer About Online Consent:

- Inform the customer about the process for completing the online contact form to provide consent for handling their sensitive data, and managing their assistance request.

2. Send Assistance Consent Email:

- Use the "Assistance Consent" email template from Edvin.
- Send the email to the customer. They will receive a link directing them to our contact form.

- The customer must click "Write to Customer Service" to create an email, write their request, and check the consent box.

3. If Consent is Given During Phone/Chat:

- Stay on the call/chat until the request is completed.
- Request the customer to provide an Etrack number and verify that consent is marked as TRUE. Use the newly created Etrack category "FL ASSISTANCE CONSENT" for this task. This category will allow us to receive customer consent emails.
- Proceed with the request as usual.

4. Once Consent is Received:

- Add the wheelchair assistance request to the booking.
- Once the request is confirmed, inform the customer over the phone/chat.
- Send an email confirmation using the "Assistance Request-Conf." template in Edvin.
- Ensure you close the Etrack case by clicking on "Close Case."

5. If Unable to Confirm Assistance:

- Place the case in the support queue and advise the customer to wait.
- Mention the error that occurred and the priority of the request in the errands:
 - High Priority (To be handled in 12 hours): "Departure within 7 days – follow up within 12 hours."
 - Medium Priority (To be handled in 24 hours): "Departure more than 7 days away – follow up within 24 hours."

6. Waiting or no response on Phone/Chat:

- If waiting for consent during a call or chat, allow up to 5 minutes for a response, as per the standard hold process.
- Close the interaction after giving a final warning if the customer does not respond within this timeframe, as per the standard process.

*Remember not to mention sickness or wheelchair in Edvin. Assistance requested and confirmed/ not confirmed is ok to write.

FL Support Process

1. Try to confirm the request:

- First FL support agent will try to confirm the request on the GDS/Portal.

2. Contact Airline to Confirm the Request:

- If unable to confirm the request on GDS/Portal then FL support agent will contact the airline to confirm the assistance request.
- Once confirmed, send an email confirmation to the customer using the "Assistance Request-Conf." template in Edvin.

3. If Unable to Confirm assistance request:

- If the request cannot be confirmed with the airline, contact the customer via phone.
- If the customer cannot be reached, send an email using the "Unconfirmed Assistance Request" template in Edvin.

Medical certificates - Cancellation Against Cancellation Protection

Cancellation Against Cancellation Protection

Cancellation by telephone

The agent will cancel the booking in the system, using the checklist. We must not make any notes about illness or diagnosis, only that the booking is canceled against the cancellation protection. The agent sends an email confirmation of the cancellation from Edvin using the template for cancellation protection. The email has a link to a specific form on the website where the customer can upload the certificate and leave his consent.

Cancellation by email through incorrect category

If the customer requests to cancel and has attached a medical certificate, the agent shall complete the cancellation, the agent sends an email confirmation of the cancellation from Edvin using the template for cancellation protection, change the email to category 160.7, and reply with the template "GDPR - medical certificate".

If the customer has not attached any medical certificate, the agent sends an email confirmation of the cancellation from Edvin using the template for cancellation protection. The original email can be closed.

If there are any ambiguities about the cancellation, the agent changes the category to 160.7 which will be handled by SL.

Cancellation via direct email (incorrect category)

If the customer submits his certificate through direct email, we must obtain consent before we can process the case. The email will be in quarantine before the customer has given consent - if this is not done, the email will be deleted automatically after 21 days.

If the customer has submitted his certificate, further consent must be given before processing. The FL agent shall complete the cancellation, send an email confirmation of the cancellation from Edvin using the template for cancellation protection, and change the email to category 160.7 reply with the template "GDPR - medical certificate".

Customer lacks cancellation protection but cancels against medical certificate/death certificate through the airline fare rules.

Cancellation by telephone

Cancel the booking according to the customer's wishes and send cancellation confirmation to the customer from Edvin with the template for waiver in rules. The agent can refer the customer directly to etraveli.com/medcert as we need to get consent to handle sensitive information and share the information with the airline.

The certificate ends up in category 160.7 which is handled by SL.

If the customer cannot find the email or requests the link to upload the documents, resend the email template with the link and instructions included.

Cancellation by e-mail

Read fare rules. If a refund is permitted according to the fare rules with a medical/death certificate - cancel the trip according to the customer's wishes and send cancellation confirmation to the customer from Edwin with the template for waiver in rules. Change the email to category 160.7 Filed Medical Certificate and reply with the template "GDPR - medical certificate".

If a refund is not permitted with a medical/death certificate - create a new case from category 130.3 and inform the customer. The original email shall be changed to category 160.9 (and permanently closed).

What kind of notes can we have

Reading time: 3 minutes.
Summary: The article outlines GDPR-compliant guidelines for documenting customer interactions in Edwin, emphasizing avoiding sensitive information and noting data retention periods for various systems.

Edvin	What kind of Notes can we have here?
	- No information about customers' health, medical issues, religious beliefs, sexual orientation, death, etc. You may talk about it, but not document it in any way. - No information about visa rejection in errand, only note: Customer XXXX called to cancel with a waiver, as per fare rules waiver is applicable. - As a general comment kindly avoid using any reference of "medical" word or anything similar that can relate to health issues. Stay between terms like "GDPR", "Waiver". If there is a need to write something about documents, instead of mentioning e.g. the "medical documents" please refer to the "required documents". - All medical issues or certificates are to be handled by SL. Pregnancy is handled as "sensitive information". Meaning that we can't make notes about it. The cancellation protection is not applicable due to pregnancy. Wheelchair and Assistance - This is sensitive information, and the customer needs to give us their consent to handle the assistance. No notes about sickness or Wheelchair. Only note that the assistance request is confirmed / not confirmed.

- Data breaches will lead to assessment and changes in routines. It is not an option for the Etraveli Group to continue with the same process if an identical data breach cannot be avoided in the future.
