Shelf Copilot

The Shelf Copilot is an artificial intelligence feature in Shelf that can help the agents search more easily for the information they need in Shelf. The usage of this tool aims to find the Shelf gem containing the information the agent is looking for more easily than via the standard Search tool.

ATTENTION

The agent, however, should always evaluate the information given by the tool before implementing it. It is suggested that you always open the linked articles provided by Copilot and not just act based on the answer provided by it.

For more information on how to use the tool, please check the options below.

Step 2

 Solution

Parent step: 1

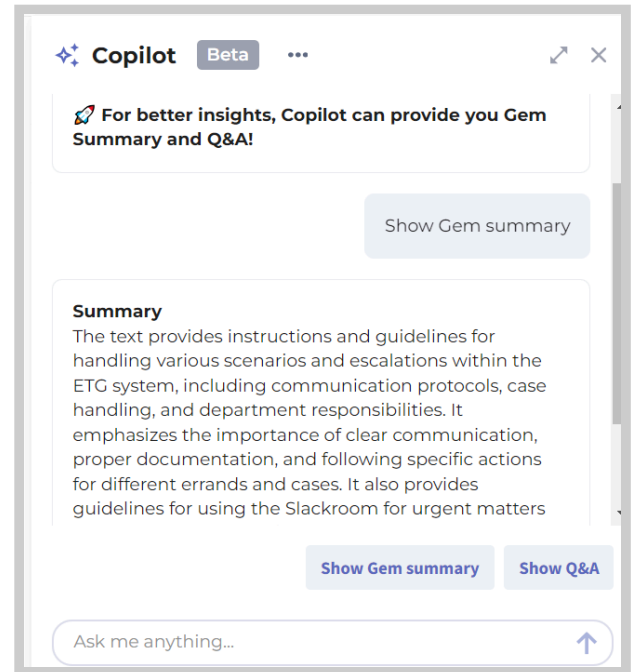

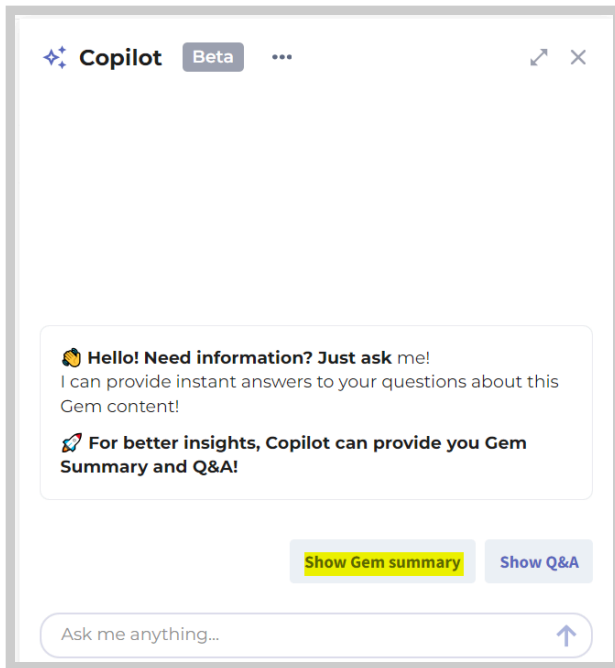

How to use Copilot when reading an article

The Copilot Shelf feature can help you when reading a specific article in Shelf. So once you have triggered Shelf Copilot (check how to trigger Copilot here), you are given the following options:

1. Copilot can help you understand the acronyms used in the article. You can ask Copilot to define any acronym or abbreviation in the article you have retrieved:

2. Copilot can generate an article summary for you. Click on Show Gem summary to get a summary of the knowledge article you have open in Shelf:

3. Copilot can generate Questions & Answers related to each knowledge article. Click on Show Q&A to get a list of questions and answers for the article you are reading in Shelf:

Step 3

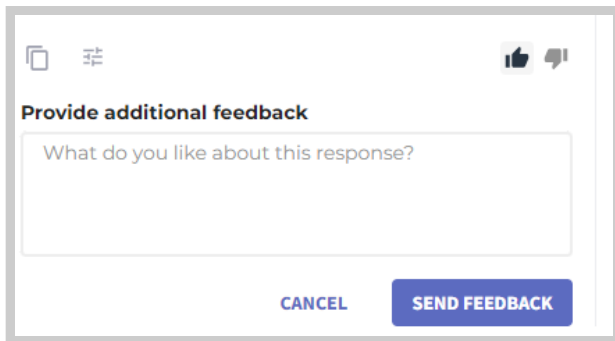

Solution

Parent step: 1

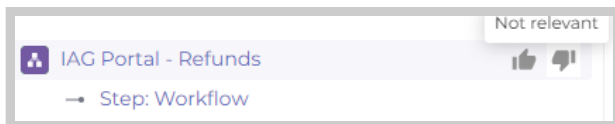

How to evaluate the reply you get

It is important to evaluate the information Copilot provides you and whether it corresponds to your question and your search. This way the feature improves itself, so that it can provide more accurate replies and information in the future.

Once you have checked the reply of Copilot (both the summary and the articles), return to the page with the Copilot answer and select the "Thumbs up" or "Thumbs down" icon based on whether the answer was helpful or not and provide additional feedback about the information:

You can also provide feedback about the articles attached based on whether they are relevant to your question or not. This can be done by clicking the "Thumbs up" or "Thumbs down" icon next to the articles:

What does ADM mean?

Seeking: What does ADM mean?

Answer:

- ADM stands for Agency Debit Memo in the airline industry.
- It is used when there are discrepancies or errors in ticketing or booking processes.
- ADMs are issued to recover funds from travel agents or other entities responsible for the errors.
- The responsibility for the ADM issuance can vary based on the specific situation, such as whether the error was made by the airline, the FL agent, or the BO agent.

What does RBD mean?

Seeking: What does RBD mean?

RBD Meaning

- RBD stands for Reservation Booking Designator.
- It refers to the booking class or code used to indicate the fare class and availability for a particular flight.
- When rebooking flights, the lowest available RBD within the same cabin may need to be selected, as per airline policy.
- The RBD determines the fare and class availability for new flights, according to airline policy.
- It is used to ensure compliance with airline regulations when making changes to flight bookings.

How to trigger Search Copilot

Follow the steps below to trigger the search with Copilot.

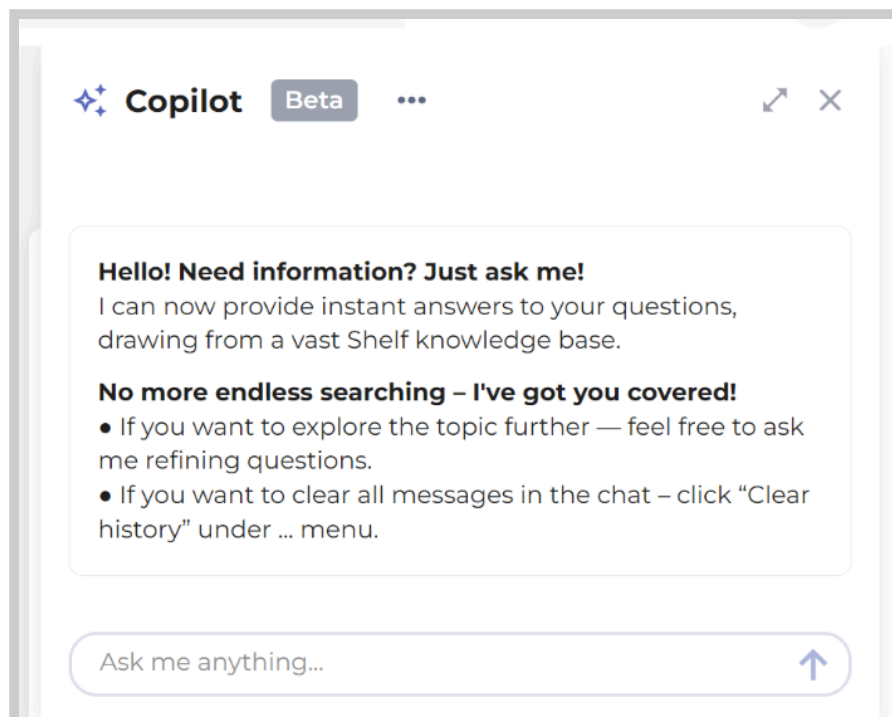

1. Click on the three star icon next to the search bar as shown in the following screenshot:

or select ASK COPILOT when typing in the search bar (screenshot below):

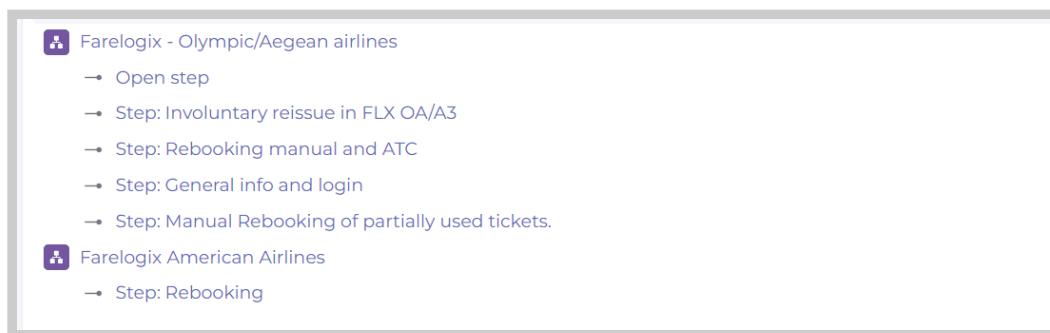

2. The Copilot interface will open in a window on the right side of the screen:

3. Type your question in the “Ask me anything...” box. Suggestion: To get results as accurate as possible, type your question as precisely as you can. You can type, for example, the request, the system, and the airline/ airline group, like: How to rebook a ticket of A3 in Farelogix?
4. Once you type the question, you will be given a summary of all the information the Copilot tool has found in Shelf. For example:

5. Below the summary, you can find all the articles of Shelf that the Copilot tool used as resources for the information provided in the summary. For example, for the reply in the previous screenshot the articles used are:

6. Click on the articles to open them in a new webpage and follow the process mentioned in them. Note: You must evaluate whether these articles respond to your question or not before following the guidelines mentioned in them.
7. After that, go back to the Copilot window and evaluate the reply of Copilot. Click here for more information on how to evaluate the tool.

Valuable information

Whenever you are using Shelf Copilot, make sure to be in the correct library and folder in Shelf. The more specific the folder, the more specific and related to the folder should be the question, since Shelf Copilot will search only within this folder for the answer to your question.

For example, if you are currently in the path: Home Organization First Line... Farelogix/SPRK Farelogix Lufthansa Group Farelogix LH Group - step by step for FL tasks and you ask about the 24h BR cancellation you will neither get accurate information nor find linked the related gems, as shown in the screenshots below, as there is no such information in this Decision tree:

WE NEVER REFER PASSENGER TO CANCEL WITH THE AIRLINE in any cases

Due to Covid 19 refunds some procedures keep changing please make sure to check the travel alert info in Edvin documents

- ALL refunds in Farelogix are to be handled by First Line.
- When handling voluntary cancellation requests such as refund according to ticket rule, 24 h cancellation, void and taxes, etc. we always use Auto refund.
- Never change to a manual refund mask unless you have a waiver or authorization or you have been given direct instructions by the airline.
- In any case where a BSP refund is the only option, and we do the 24-hour rule refund, FL agents must cancel segments, modify the order and send it for urgent refund as it needs to be processed within 24 hours.
- If you see in Farelogix the notification below "CANCELLED AFTER REFUND NOTIFICATION", it means only that the passenger has contacted YY and respectively canceled segments with YY without being eligible for any exceptional refund. Refunds must be done according to the applicable conditions of each PNR.

How to cancel against 24h BR?

To cancel against a 24-hour BR (Booking Reference), follow these steps:

- If the passenger claims to have already cancelled with the airline, refund the tickets and cancel the itinerary from our end in the Farelogix portal. This is necessary to receive any refund from the airline.
- If the booking has been cancelled by the airline, refund the tickets from our end to ensure the ticket status changes to "REFUNDED" and receive any refund from the airline. Do not refund a ticket if the refunded amount is 0. If the ticket is fully non-refundable, only cancel the segments in Farelogix without following the refund steps per ticket.
- If the ticket is refundable against a fee from the airline, inform the customer about the airline fee and our fee (if applicable). Submit the refund submit the refund request, cancel the segment in Farelogix, cancel it on Edvin, and send an email confirmation to the customer.

- If the passenger confirms cancellation, cancel the booking in Farelogix/SPRK, send a cancellation confirmation to the passenger via Edvin, refund each ticket number in Farelogix/SPRK, and remove any active flight segments. If only one passenger needs to be canceled, split them out from the original booking before canceling.
- For cases where a BSP (Billing and Settlement Plan) refund is the only option, and a 24-hour rule refund is required, cancel the segments, modify the order, and send it for urgent refund within 24 hours.

Note: Always check the LHG FM Corona TA info in Edvin's documents for specific details on when and for which cases we can proceed via the portal.

How to cancel against 24h BR?

To cancel against the 24h BR (Brazil) rule, follow these steps:

- For BR site orders, cancellation is generally allowed, regardless of the itinerary.
- For non-BR site bookings/PNRs with flights arriving in Brazil, cancellation is allowed if made by a Brazilian resident.
- The cancellation request must be received within 24 hours from the time of purchase.
- The first departure date should be at least 7 days after the payment date. For example, if you book on the 7th of July, the departure date should be no earlier than the 14th of July to qualify for free cancellation within 24 hours.
- The 24h BR free cancellation rule only applies to first issue tickets and cannot be applied to reissued tickets.

Please note that the cancellation reason applies per PNR/ticket, and passengers are eligible for 24h BR
